

State awards two UC schools Benchmark status

Union City's Jefferson and Robert Waters schools have both been selected as 2006 "Benchmark Schools" by the Business Coalition for Educational Excellence, which is an arm of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce.

The coalition selected 69 state schools this year. "We're very pleased and proud that the Jefferson School and the Robert Waters School have received this prestigious award, joining several of our other schools that have won the award in previous years," said Superintendent of Schools Stanley Sanger.
