

Gov's panel: Toughen graduation requirements

MOUNT LAUREL — Gov. Jon S. Corzine's High School Redesign Steering Committee proposes phasing in more specific — and rigorous — graduation requirements over the next eight years.

The proposed requirements aim to have almost all students close to meeting requirements for college entrance.

Instead of taking three years of science, for instance, all students would have to take lab biology, lab chemistry and a third “rigorous” course.

